

Integrate Your Existing Solutions to the Accela Civic Platform

Extend the core functionality of Accela

Now more than ever, Governments need to adapt to fast moving technology and ever changing citizen needs to deliver services more effectively, improve constituent satisfaction and reduce costs. Government agencies are faced with the realization that to achieve their productivity goals and provide the most value to their employees, partners and citizens, it is necessary for divergent technologies to be integrated with one another.

By integrating third party solutions with the Civic Platform, Governments will work faster, improve information flow and prolong the life of existing operation-critical solutions. With more than 25+ years of providing IT Professional Services, zedIT has a proven track record of overcoming the most stubborn of obstacles such as connecting disparate technologies with one another. By opening up the information exchange between solutions, government agencies can synchronize data and eliminate manual data entry across multiple solutions.

zedIT ePayment Adapter

The Civic Platform currently supports CivicPay, Official Payments, PayFlow Pro 4.3 and Virtual Merchant, out-of-the-box. In most cases, however, an agency has already invested time, budget and resources in a third party ePayment solution that is not supported by the Civic Platform, resulting in the need for custom integration.

zedIT Solutions' ePayment Adapter - built specifically for the Accela Civic Platform – allows agencies to seamlessly connect their current payment solution with Accela Citizen Access, without the costs and timeline associated with custom integration. Once installed, zedIT will handle the hosting and support, leaving an agency's IT department with one less technology to worry about.

When citizens launch a payment request in Accela Citizen Access, zedIT's ePayment Adapter triggers a payment request to the third party payment gateway.

zedIT's ePayment Adapter will integrate, automate and simplify online payments. Keep the familiar solutions in place that you know work for your government and provide value to your stakeholders – while integrating with Accela for even greater benefits.

zedIT's team of certified consultants have worked with Government agencies of all sizes across North America developing seamless integrations between the Accela Civic Platform and third-party solutions. With zedIT Solutions, your Accela integration opportunities are limited only by your imagination.
